“ Dean was so dear to us.He made every when he helped us at our house - it was better day. He built our front garden and did other amazing jobs around our house. Very unique. We so lucky that he was part of our lives so happy he got to meet our family from California. Thanksgivings at the Frosts at our family table mine and Linda's . Spending Christmas eve at Linda's together full of cheer and fun and family. Dean you will missed so much by everyone . Terri Lott and Inez Epstein

“ What can I say in one paragraph to sum up how I feel about my son my firstborn. He meant everything to me he was my life always always my life always my first thought. Every hurt I felt, all the love he had of mine as do all of my kids ,Kalin and Cody. I have so many memories of my son I have learned more about Dean Byrd in the last 3 days that I learned in 35 years since the day he was born. I miss him every second. Every second I still feel he's going to walk through the door and this is a bad dream. Its not. I've been reassured by many many friends on how much he loved me which I can't even comprehend I know through everybody else on how much he loves me and how much I realize now how much I loved him and will miss him and no one, no one will ever know that unless they walked in my shoes. No one. There's not a minute will go by for the rest of my life till I take my last breath on how much you meant to me,there is now a void in my heart that I've said before I do not want filled. I know by my faith which is being tested now that I will see him and that is so beautiful to me through my faith in God that I know that I will be with my son and I will be with my family I know he right now as we speak he does not want to come home and that he is perfectly content in Heaven and waiting with my mom and my dad and all of his uncles and aunts til I will get to join him again. Not for 35 years but through eternity I can go on for hours but I just want to say Dean I love you I miss you I will talk to you everyday for the rest of my life until I can see you and hug you again and there will never be a moment that you were not in my mind and soul of my heart Dean Byrd, Gary Dean Byrd I love you I love you much I'll see you soon. I consider you one of my guardian angels now. I know you will have my back as you will have your brothers'. You are my "wing man "as I know you are for your brothers and sister. Couldn't have a better one.I love you.Until we meet again,Your Dad.

“ Dean was the most amazing big brother I could ever have he is the most amazing uncle to my daughter, Brother to my other siblings, friend to me and many others he will be missed dearly but never forgotten . This past year was Dean's favorite year he was full of life , the happiest I've ever seen him and the best I've ever seen them . He was so proud to be an uncle I know he love my little girl with all his heart me and him would talk about her for hours. I'm gonna miss all the phone calls and the conversations that we had with each other and all the times that I will never forget .He has a big part of my heart and my other half. He loved everyone and always will. He will be missed by many. Dean I love you with all my heart take it is brother. My tears are falling like rain. I love you.
