“ Aunt Carolyn,
You are a Lovely Aunt ...

So close and near to my heart, with me and in me...

You have taught me so much since childhood from awareness, dancing, dressing in your beautiful dresses and wearing your high heel shoes as a teenager and how to walk in them and what they can do to a person feet as well when they get older 😊 or just bad shoe. Also taught us all about defense, eating, education, people, places and things.

My greatest food dish together of course Chinese food with Cayenne Pepper as a little girl I would always ask for some of yours and you would say it's hot with pepper, that you will give me a little then if you eat it ..

I will give you more and of course I passed the challenge until I gained of having my half order of fried rice for myself 😊 ...

I must say Because of the strong knowledge of Jesus you and the family had as children.

It has set a strong foundation and guidance for us today no matter the path we have taken it has led us back to GOD which is training your child in the way they should go for when they are older they would know which way to go and who to call upon.

Our family could be having a party celebrating anything or anyone however, and end up talking about the book of Revelation.. I can recall hearing all of you enjoying speaking about it although I was supposed to been upstairs or in the other room with the other children.. I would always make my way by the steps or a door to listen to music or the talking at the end of the party 😊.

However, now are the times which spoken of we are living in and because of hearing those conversation as a child has brung about awareness due to the wisdom and knowledge shared amongst us all.

You also, explored into the knowledge about GOD since your early years which increased your relationship more with Him causing you to grow stronger in His Word and hearing His voice for yourself having a personal relationship even more while experiencing His glorious presence.

I am so glad what you shared as for your knowledge recently and returning to your first Love that is GOD the Father, Son and His Holy Spirit..,and through your journey you have learned a lot. Therefore, to be absent from the body is to be presence with The LORD for those who Believe...

*Aunt Carolyn you are not gone or forgotten your spirit and love is too strong to be....
GOD plan is to return and those that are with Him will return too..for it is written..*

These are end-times and those that are in Christ will rise up (show up) with Him..which is the truth and cannot be denied..

Love you,

Niece Madelyn
