We were saddened to hear of Connie's passing but knowing of all of her medical problems plus the passing of her son Daryl in 09 now she can be with him I don't think she really regained her strength after that tragedy prayers and hugs to all of Connie's family

We gather today with heavy hearts to remember and celebrate the life of a woman whose vibrant spirit touched each of us in profound ways. Connie, a sister, devoted mother, and doting grandmother. Her untimely departure on New Year's day 2024 has left us all in shock and grief, but let us also take this time to reflect on the joy she brought into our lives. Connie is my baby sister, leaving behind myself, Sandy, and sister Debbie; together we formed a trio of strength, love, and resilience. In recent times, a beautiful reconciliation occurred, healing wounds from an old feud lost in the mists of memory. It is a testament to the enduring power of family, forgiveness, and the irreplaceable bonds that tie siblings together. Connie was a fun-loving soul, known for her infectious laughter and the joy she spread wherever she went. Her resilience was remarkable, especially in the face of the tragic loss of her youngest son. The pain lingered, but she carried on, finding solace in the love she had for her five grandchildren. They were the light of her life, and she cherished every moment spent with them. As we reflect on Connie's life, let us remember the joyous times, the laughter shared during family gatherings, and the warmth she brought to our hearts. Sandy and Debbie were indeed a wild bunch, as her son once amusingly observed. Their dynamic and lively presence, through, was a testament to the strong family ties that bound us. In Connie's passing, we are reminded of the fragility of life. She departed peacefully in her sleep, a tragic end to the life that touched so many. Let us find comfort in the knowledge that she is now at peace, reunited with loved ones who went before her. As we say our farewells, let Connie's memory live on in the stories we share, the laughter that echoes through our family gatherings, and the love that binds us together. May she rest in eternal peace, and may her spirit continue to bring warmth and joy to our hearts.
