Removal of another link from the family chain saddens me. Her wings were ready, but our hearts were not. May you find peace and comfort in the love she shared, the many memories you have, and the love and support of family and friends.

It's sad to think about you losing someone so special, and although we can't know all that you are going through, we want you to know that we care. We pray that loving memories that you shared will help to comfort you. Love you.
