

Harriet Louise Bowman

July 7, 1947 - December 22, 2012

Harriet Louise Bowman Age 65, Hazelwood, MO.

Harriet Louise Bowman, born July 7, 1947 in Spangler, PA, of Hazelwood, MO passed away Dec 22, 2012. She is preceded in death by her mother & father Ethel and Harry Lann. She is survived by her husband Tom who loved and adored her very much, her daughter Kelly Torlina of St. Peters, MO, her sons Keith and Kevin of Florissant, MO, seven grand children, Lauren, Lindsey, Logan, Kyle, Andrew, Brittany, and Ashlee, her brother Larry Lann of Warrenton, VA, her sisters Barbara Shockley and Cheryl Jones of Manassas, VA, Connie Myers of Dekalb, IL, and Deborah Wilcher of Woodbridge, VA. For ten years she worked at the Lawson Elementary School in Florissant, MO and loved it very much, her best job ever. She loved working with the children and often volunteered to mentor a few with problems. Her huge and favorite past time activity was to just jump in the van, prop her feet up on the dash board, and sit back and relax. It was nothing unusual to go to McDonalds in Hannibal, MO for lunch. Another fun for her was to head to the Boonville, MO casino for a little gambling and crab legs. She also loved being a grandmother, and was very involved in any and all activities that her grandchildren participated in.

“ I never thought that I would miss my phone ringing like I do now. You made my busiest of moments so easy. You made me STOP everything, to talk. I miss you. I took your advice, I don't care as much about a spotless house. I don't expect my girls to do things as I would. I cherish moments that nobody else would even notice. I stop to smell the roses, now, Mom. I am not over you, and I will never be over you. I think about you 24/7. I still don't sleep well, I still cry out of the blue, and I have to run to the bathroom at work to dry my face. But then I smile, because I am proud to cry over you. I hope the tears come out of the blue for the rest of my life. It's okay to feel this way, right? I'm never going to be the same without you. I am your daughter after all. You are my Mom. I miss you so much. Everything about you. I would give anything for a good debate with you right now. Or a hug. xox

“ Many Easter memories with you, all of them actually. I miss you. You are spending Easter with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Mom, I know you are celebrating. Give Amy a hug for me. Tell her that Mike is the best ever, not that she didn't already know that. Also, tell her thanks for signing me up for all that she's signed me up for. She will always be a part of me because she helped me to get here. Amy is a friend that leaves a life long mark. Please tell Tina I have never forgotten her and thank her for being my friend. I always check the color of my shoes because of her. Tell my beautiful grandmothers thank you for giving me such a great foundation in you and dad. Tell my grandfathers that I think of them often, and although I lost them long ago, I remember everything. Tell God to stay with me. Mom - you are forever a part of me. We aren't putting out a fire together this Easter.. ha ha... I light many candles for you and watch the flame burn. I love you and I miss you and I hope you are dancing today in celebration of your new life. In the midst of my turmoil and sadness, I am so happy to know you are happy. Happy Easter, Mom.

Don't worry about me right now, I'm still here, living, as you expected (and demanded!) I need you to help my BFF now because I can't follow my instincts and hop on a plane to give her the best hug ever. I need you to comfort her. For some reason, you and I both want to get to Jersey! Tough days, mom, and many more ahead. You knew it would be like this, but you had faith in us. We all have great intentions, but it's really hard right now. You were the 100 pound force of life and you held down the fort and now you are working with wings from a glorious place that we can't see. You must have patience right now. We can't see you. We are a mess. We are work in progress. We still have your foundation, we know what we are made of, we just really miss the shit out of you and we are seriously lost without you. Please continue to shine down on me with your beaming warmth, and please continue to be dad's co-pilot. Continue to hold little Ashlee's hands as she finds strength in her legs. Continue to show us all of your love, wisdom, and humor in our daily lives. Continue to have faith in us, mom. We are yours, and you are ours...Forever.

Tom, I think of you and Harriett everyday! She will forever be with all of you....in your hearts and memories. A friend of mine, who lost a child, once said to me "I am grateful for the time I had with him...he was on loan to me from God". I think she may be right. Treasure those who are in our lives for they are gone all too quickly. May He watch over you and help you along this journey.

She was a wonderful lady and put up with me for 45 plus years, the best of my life. I am crying as I write this, but I have her at my side with her arm around me, gently touching my face and wiping my tears. I miss her so much, each and every day. I talk to her, I think of her and as the writing on her tombstone says "We Don't Say Goodbye, Forever In Our Hearts". I know we will be together again. Thank you so much for your kindness, cards, masses, visits, phone calls, just flat being her for us has made me totally proud of having you as my family, friends, and co-workers. Tom*

My mother really did bless us all. Your friendship is unique and so special. Thank you for loving my mother as you do, , Thank you for the memories that I won't type about because they are so fun and personal. . She was more awesome than the Phillies. ...and the Fanatic....as much as I love him. I love her more. Thank you for making an impression on our lives. Your family will always be a part of my life. Mom chose to leave us, her last idea of a trip was to see you all in Jersey - I will never forget any days with her, but that day was very inspirational. Thank you for sharing your tears with me. Mom, I don't know how I am going to do this without you. I trust that you will guide me as you always have, just as you trusted me. We have had guardian angels through our life together. I truly have the strongest and most beautiful one now. I love you with all that I am, I thank you for all that you have given me, and I miss you so very much. Love, Kelly

Mom we miss you so much. You meant so much to so many people. I will promise you that the love you shared will never be forgotten. Please watch down on us all and give us the strength that's needed to continue on. Miss you your baby boy.
