“ I had hoped for Kinlee she might someday get a chance to meet and know her dad and family. I am saddened to hear this news, that she has now lost both her biological mother and father at such young ages, and will never meet or know them. I never met Joseph in person and only spoke briefly on a couple occasions, but I believe he truly did want to better his life and someday have a relationship with his daughter. My deepest condolences to all the family and friends who lost this far too young man. May God reunite them all in heaven, and may he live on through his children.

“ I only had the privilege of meeting Joe once but he made a huge impression on me. He was smiling and funny and had a big heart. He was very proud of his Dad. It was a cold day and he gave up his jacket for me. Thank you Joe and I'm sorry I didn't get to know you better. May you rest in peace.

“ I became best friends with Joe in the 4th grade where he set up some huge elaborate sticker system trying to motivate me to stay out of trouble and get good grades in return I gave him inappropriate suggestions to put in a letter to his girlfriends. Another one that has been stuck in my head since I heard of all this is when Joe dressed up like a chicken for a Halloween party yellow tights and all and won a prize. 4 wheeling in the blue Honda Civic thru Rocklake or pushing that huge white station wagon acrossed the intersection cause we broke down. When he picked me up in the vette before turnabout hit 100 mph on the bottoms with the spare on. Laying on the waterbed in his room thinking how dumb I sound when I left a message on his answering machine. I'm barley keeping it together talking about this silly shit Joe you deserved so much better.

“ Venessa,

I am so incredibly saddened to hear about the loss of your brother. Cherish the good memories with him and take comfort knowing that Joe is at home with his maker. He is finally at peace, living his eternal life, without any struggles. I will be praying that the Lord wrap his loving arms around your entire family during this very difficult time!

“ WOW ! I don't know how or where to begin really ...
Joe was a part of my life for many many years as a brother in law and a friend . As life changed so did our relationship but he was always in my thoughts and prayers .
I'm for ever grateful for the memories , the laughs (lots of laughs)
the family trips and even the days we would just have a few beers and talk about life and the battles we both faced .
He had the biggest heart and was a loyal person to those he cared for and those who cared for him
I ask that we all forget the circumstance that's brought us together and reflect on the good and the times Joe made us all smile at some point in our lives and that we pray for the innocence of his children and ours that just don't understand .
You always in my heart and soul Joe and I hope your in a better place with your Mother and " H" sitting on a porch swing talking about the good days as we all used to do years ago .
Till we meet again brother !!
