“ To : Melody a very dear and special friend whom I've had the pleasure of knowing for 42 years. I met Mel when we was 8 years old and she never treated me bad. One of my childhood memories is when we use to jump rope in my driveway which was next door to her house it would be just me and Mel we would tie the rope on the fence and take turns jumping also we would play jacks in the hallway at my house. Melody knew everybody I use to say GIRL EVERYBODY IS NOT YOUR FRIEND. She was just that type of person and remember everybody we went to school with. We are more than just childhood friends we are sister with a bound that couldn't be broken. I love you but GOD LOVES YOU MORE NEVER FORGOTTEN REST IN PEACE. MELODY

“ I've been knowing Melody for 42 years. She has always been like another sister of mine. When my sister and her became best friends at an early age she was my first crush. She was such an attractive 8 year old (lol) teenager, young lady, and woman. Needless to say I was happy that she was my sister (Lisha) friend and over a short period of time became my other sister.

Over the years, I didn't see much of her because I moved out of town, but that made no difference. Her name stayed echoing out of the mouths of my family members. Also, thanks to social media we would show love and support socially from time to time. She was indeed family.

Melody, I will miss seeing you in the flesh, but I will cherish the 42 years of memories growing up on the 57 hundred block of Goodfellow has given me. Farewell my sister. I'm so glad that I had the chance to fly in to be by your side in your last days - to see you, hold your hand, caress your feet, and to reflect on the countless memories even photos could not capture. Love ya and I take peace knowing there's one more angel now looking out for me.

To the family I send my condolences. May God keep you all and guide you through this turbulent and trying time. You are all in my prayers.

“ I remember when I first met Melody briefly 28 years ago; as time went I wouldn't know her if I was to see her. However; no matter where Melody would see me she would come over and say, "Isn't your name Joy?" She would always leave me with a compliment or/and a smile. Then we would always find ourselves at the same hang out places knowing a lot of the same people. Just knowing her and seeing her in passing the LORD has certainly open the gates to a beautiful woman with a sparkling personality. May you continue to shine and may the LORD comfort those that will forever grieve your lost.

“ Melody was always cold at work so she'd borrow my jacket and have her ear buds in jamming to her music....her head just bopping away! She had a wonderful outlook on life and a zest for it as well. She loved to love, smile and treat you with such kindness. I only knew her for a short time but in that time, I gained a friend that I will miss. Its not goodbye, it's I will see you in our Fathers kingdom and we will rejoice together. My sincere condolences to her daughters, grandkids, sisters, brothers and friends. Prayers for all of you to be lifted up during this difficult time. For by the grace of God, we will all see her again!

“Melody, you have been in my life FOREVER. From the age of 8 you and I have stayed the course and never lost track from each other. I think back as kids when I would call you to tell you that I was coming up to your house but I wouldn't you to come down to my house (which was only 7 houses from yours) only to walk with me up to yours, and without hesitation you would say “ok, I'm on way”. When it was time to go home, you would walk me back to my house; I would turn around and walk you halfway and stand there until you made it the steps of your house. Then, you would stand and watch me walk back to my house. Charlotte would be on her porch laughing and saying that we were too crazy (lol). But even at the age of 8, we had each other's back; and it's been that way ever since. When I moved away, we still maintained the connection; that bond. You would be the first person I called when I was coming home and when I arrived, you would be right there at my parent's house (or on your way). When I think about all of the good times we shared, I can't help but smile.

To all of Melody's friends that met her in her adult years, you were truly blessed to have had the opportunity to know a true ANGEL. I, on the other hand, was extremely blessed to have had her for 42 wonderful, crazy, exciting and precious years.

You are gone in the flesh, but you will always be with me in spirit. Until we meet again.... Love you Melody

“ Melody loved her family and her friends. She was so proud of both of her daughters. She would come into work and stop by to say good morning and tell me about her weekend. She did enjoy being out and about with friends and family.

I pray that her family and cherished ones are given the strength they need to weather this storm.

Until we meet again my dear friend...
