Here is the information about my nephew for those of you asking. I am incredibly sad for his parents, children and family that loved him so much. We aren't supposed to bury our children. And certainly not to a violent act as he was subject to. Randy was my first nephew and I had the fortune to be able to take him pretty much when I wanted to. It was always hard to give him back to his parents. They had to pry him out of my arms practically. As he grew up, he didn't really want to be around Aunt Deb much. He preferred his friends. But I loved him like a son and miss him so much. I wish I had just a few more minutes with him to let him know how much I appreciated being his aunt and learning how to care for my own future children thru him. I have so much more in my heart but it is broken into little pieces right now. I just can't imagine if I, who is only an aunt, feel this emptiness and hurt, what his mom and dad and kids are feeling. Rest in Peace, Randy. I know you are being held softly in the arms of our Lord and those that have gone on before you. That comforts me.
