“ I have known Sharon since childhood and then had the pleasure of working with her briefly at Marquette School. We always shared many laughs whenever we met and always just picked up our conversations from our last meeting. Most of us with Southside roots had memories that we could talk about for hours. She will long be remembered for her musical skill and talents that were enjoyed by so many. I considered her a lifelong friend and will continue to pray for the strength of the family at this difficult time.

“ Dear Family, Sister Brand will be sincerely missed. She was a very gifted woman: pianist, organist and singer. She was very kind and committed to her work for the Kingdom. My prayers are with you.

“ I was honored to teach with Ms Brand. She not only taught me about teaching but she gave me practical advice about life. She had such a wonderful spirit and was extremely funny. She will be missed.

“ My heart is saddened..... I met Ms.Brand when I attended Carr Lane. I thought she was a mean teacher. Always had something mean to say about me. However, when I learned that she played the piano, she became my favorite teacher. At that time in my life, I had just started to play organ at my church. So, I was always hanging around Ms. Brand not only to get caught up with math assignments, but to convince her to show me some piano chords I could use at my church. From that point Ms. Brand and I had a close relationship. When I started high school and college I had lost contact with Ms. Brand. It wasn't until just around 5 years ago when I happened to see that she was on Facebook. I was so excited to connect with Ms. Brand and catch up. I am glad I did. During trips I visited St.Louis, I made sure that I stopped by to check on her. I had no idea she was sick. She did not show it and she looked very happy! My wife had also took I liking to Ms. Brand. My wife Natasha had a kidney transplant and Ms. Brand was encouraging to us! I will miss her. I can rejoice on the fact that Ms. Brand was saved and I believe that she was present with our Lord and Savior. My prayers and condolences are with her family as they begin the healing process.
