“ It's still hard for me to realize Tom, my brother-in-law is gone. I will remember his gentle look, his gentle smile, but what showed most was the great love for Jean. When I thought of Tom, I thought of Jean, their love for each other, even after Jean passed away was always there, part of Tom. He often talked about how his children took care of him. Losing his daughter, Patti was unbearable for him. I am blessed for all the times all us Gantner brothers, sisters and spouses were able to get together, to laugh, share the many stories, to just enjoy being together.
